Wall Street Systems and Clients Win Leading Treasury Awards

New York, London, 14 December 2009 - Wall Street Systems (Wallstreet), the global provider of treasury, trading and settlement solutions and services, has ended its most successful year for treasury by winning in each of the industry's leading awards.

The Alexander Hamilton Award for Overall Excellence was won by Wallstreet client Toyota Financial Services, in part, for the benefits delivered by Wallstreet Suite. Wallstreet was also named the Financial-i Most Innovative Solution Provider for the successful launch of Wallstreet Treasury SaaS, and picked up Best Risk Management Solution in the Treasury Management International (TMI) Awards.

The Alexander Hamilton Awards recognise the greater leadership role treasurers and senior financial executives are playing as they help steer their companies through the unprecedented global financial crisis, while the Financial-i Leaders in Innovation are shortlisted by a team of journalists and independent analysts, and winners selected by industry experts.

TMI's awards for Innovation & Excellence in Treasury are voted for by customers, underlining the quality of service Wallstreet provides to all customers, and showing strong customer support for Wallstreet's capability to provide the expertise and solutions needed by corporate treasurers.

Mark Lewis, Director, Corporate Treasury at Wall Street Systems said: "We're delighted to see our dedication to clients and the industry at large, being recognised by leading awards. In particular, it's great to receive acknowledgement from market players and analysts in the industry. At Wallstreet we pride ourselves on being leaders in innovation."
